INTRODUCTION

PRIOR to 1887 the existence of two Grand Lodges in London during the second half of the eighteenth century was always referred to as "The Great Schism"; but in that year Henry Sadler published his Masonic Facts and Fictions, which, I believe, convinced all his readers but one (R. F. Gould) that no Schism or Secession had taken place, since the majority of those who founded the "Antients" Grand Lodge had never owed allegiance to the premier Grand Lodge of 1717. Rather was it an invasion of the territory of the original Grand Lodge by Masons, most of whom derived their origin from the Grand Lodge of Ireland—an invasion at a time before any theory of exclusive territorial jurisdiction had been formulated.

It has often been taken for granted that the Lodges which banded themselves together to form the "Antients" organisation in 1751 were some of the independent "St. John's" Lodges, which had been in existence some say from 1739, some from 1730 and some from 1717 or earlier; so far as I know, there is not the slenderest evidence that any of the five Lodges who formed the first nucleus had, in fact, been in existence for more than a matter of months, or possibly even weeks. And the fact that, when they arranged to have Warrants, they back-dated them only to July, 1751, precludes, in my opinion, any possibility that they could have been entitled to any materially greater seniority.

Unlike the older Grand Lodge, which expected a Lodge to be Constituted before it could begin to work, the Rules and Orders of the "Antients" (v. Rule 8) require that "No . . . Warrant shall be granted to any Brothers to hold a Lodge until such time they have first form'd a Lodge of Ancient Masons and sitt Regularly in a Credible House and then to Apply by Petition . . ."

indicating that they expected a Lodge to be working for several weeks before it was regularised, and suggesting that that is probably what had taken place in the case of the originating five Lodges.

Be that as it may, the beginnings of any organisation of the "Antients" can certainly be dated from Wednesday, 17th July, 1751, on which day a General Assembly "met (at the Turks Head Tavern in Greek Street Soho) to revive the Ancient Craft". At which meeting they appointed a Committee who formulated a code of 16 "Rules and Orders", which are recorded at the beginning of Morgan's Register.

Rule 1 allows for the Grand Lodge to meet monthly, and it is therefore reasonable to assume that at least six unrecorded meetings were held between that of July, 1751, and the first fully-recorded meeting of February 5th, 1752; but apparently Morgan did not see fit to keep any written Minutes of them—or, if he did, he did not hand over the Minute-Book to Dermott, who records, under date 14th September, 1752, that he does not "think that Brother John Morgan did keep any book of Transactions in this form, though there is no certainty that he did not". John Hamilton said on May 6th, 1752, that the Grand Committee had been "long held under the Title of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Massons of the Old Institution" at the Turk's Head Tavern, which is no doubt the language of exaggeration, but may be at least taken as confirming that the meetings during the second half of 1751 had been reasonably continuous; it also raises the question whether the body which from February, 1752, to December, 1753, is uniformly described in the Minutes as a Grand Committee, was, in fact, a Grand Lodge. Lane (v. A.Q.C., v., p. 166) points out that throughout the "Rules and Orders" of 1751 the body is always styled a Grand Lodge, and it may well be that they only called it a Committee because it was not governed by a Grand Master. The evidence of the Minutes as to whether the meetings were opened and closed as a Lodge are equivocal; many things are done which we should imagine could only be done in open Lodge, but on the other hand, when a specific rehearsal of ritual was to be done, it was resolved that "this Grand Committee shall be formed immediately into a working Lodge of Master Masons".

This does not preclude the normal meetings from having been opened as a Grand Lodge; but evidence is lacking to make a decision possible.

Laurence Dermott. The salient facts about Laurence Dermott have been set out on many occasions, but it may be convenient to have them re-stated briefly here. He appears to have been connected with the family of the MacDermotts of Roscommon, whose Arms he uses on his Book-plate. He was born in 1720, and initiated in Dublin, while still under 21, on January 14, 1740-1, in Lodge No. 26. He served (v. Minutes, 2nd March, 1757) the offices of Junior and Senior Deacon, Secretary, and Junior and Senior Warden (the Lodge elected its Officers half-yearly), and finally attained the Chair on 24th June, 1746; he also received the Royal Arch in the same year. The exact time of his coming to England is not known, but it is thought to have been in 1748. It has been frequently stated that in England he first joined a Lodge under the premier Grand Lodge of England; but this is deduced from his own reference to the time when he "was first introduced into that society" (i.e., the "Moderns"), and Bro. Heron Lepper pointed out that this may have merely meant when he first visited a Lodge under that Grand Lodge, and there is no evidence that he ever, in fact, belonged to a Lodge under the original Grand Lodge. Curiously enough, there is also no evidence that he belonged to any Lodge at all between 1748 and 1752, for he was not one of the 79 members of the five Lodges which united to form the Grand Committee, and he only comes on the Register as No. 114, when he became a founder of Lodge No. 10 on 1st February, 1752—only four days before the famous day on which he was elected Grand Secretary. However, no doubt the founders of No. 10 had been "sitting regularly in a credible House" for some weeks earlier than that date. Bro. Lepper also suggests (v. Hist G.L. Ireland, Vol. I, p. 233) that possibly Lodge No. 26 may have been transported complete to London; certainly we find in the Minutes of March 2nd, 1757, that Thomas Allen, of Lodge No. 2, was formerly the keeper of the house (? Innkeeper) where No. 26 was held, and Charles Byrne (Senr.), also of No. 2, was the person who installed Dermott in the Chair of No. 26 in 1746. One would like to guess that Lodge No. 26 became Lodge No. 2, but, if so, why did not Dermott become a member of No. 2 in 1751? The very transitory nature of Lodge membership at this period is illustrated by the fact that Dermott only remained a member of No. 10 for three weeks before he transferred to No. 9, from which in turn he resigned four months later, on 20th June; after which he appears not to have been a member of any Lodge for some time, except the Grand Committee. In 1756 he produced the first edition of Ahiman Rezon, and three further editions were issued in his lifetime—in 1764, 1778 and 1787.<sup>1</sup> He continued in his Office as Grand Secretary for nearly 20 years, until he became Deputy Grand Master in 1771, which Office he held until 1777, and again from 1783 to 1787. He last attended Grand Lodge on June 3rd, 1789, and died in June, 1791, at the age of 71.

Calendar. The Julian Calendar, dating from 46 B.C., was based on a year which exceeded the Sidereal year by some 11 minutes, and in the course of the centuries the cumulative error had become very great, until in 1582 Pope Gregory XIII had corrected it by dropping out 10 days. England, however, had declined to adopt the Gregorian year, and by 1751 the year (which, incidentally, began on March 25th) had an accrued error of 11 days. An Act of Parliament was therefore passed in 1751, to come into force as from the end of December, by which the year was to start on January 1st, and eleven days should be omitted from the Calendar between September 2nd and 14th, 1752.

" . . . and that the Natural Day next immediately following the said Second Day of September, shall be called, reckoned, and accounted, to be the Fourteenth Day of September, omitting for that time only the Eleven intermediate Nominal Days of the Common Calendar." (24 Geo. II, c 23).

<sup>1</sup> Since this was written, the following advertisement has been discovered in the Public Advertiser:—

November 16th, 1754

Now in the Press, and speedily will be published
AHIMAN REZON, or A complete

Pocket Companion for Free Masons; containing every Thing necessary for the true Regulation of Lodges and Behaviour of Free Masons. To which is added the grandest Collection of Mason's Songs, Prologues, and Epilogues, that were ever published.

By Brother LAWRENCE DERMOT, Secretary.

The above is chiefly collected from the Works of Dr. Anderson, Desaguliers, Deasigny and Spratt, with several Things never before published.

Subscriptions are taken in at Mr. Bedford's, the Crown in Paul's Alley, St. Paul's Church-yard; Mr. Jackson's, the Admiral Vernon in Bishopgate-street; Mr. Galbraith's, Watch-Finisher in Great Arthur-street; at Mr. Hamilton's, the King's Head, in Mary-le-Bone-street; and at Mr. Richmond's, the Cheshire Cheese, Savoy-Hill, Strand.

The Proposals are to be seen at all the above Places.

The title-page of the 1764 edition of Ahiman Rezon states that it is the second edition; therefore there can have been no edition earlier than that of 1756; so although the book was in the press late in 1754, it was not published until nearly two years later. The dedication to the Earl of Blessington, although it does not call him Grand Master, which he did not become until December, 1756, seems to indicate that the book was not published until towards the end of the year. I imagine that Dermott had deliberately held up publication until his book could be dedicated to a Nobleman.

Thus September, 1752, had only 19 days. As the Minutes of the "Antients" begin only on 5th February, after the new Act was in force, they contain no allusion to the alteration in the beginning of the year, but it can hardly be a coincidence that they arranged to meet on two consecutive days, Wednesday, September 2nd, Old Style, and Thursday, September 14th, New Style; the former was their regular meeting day, but the latter is labelled "on Emergency". It would appear that the change of Calendar left our Brethren in some confusion, for the meetings in October and November, which should have been held on the first Wednesdays, were held on the first Fridays. The Minutes of September 2nd show the meeting "Adjourn'd to the first Wednesday in Oct<sup>r</sup>. next", while the Minutes of the following day show "Adjourned to the 6th of October next", which was the Friday, and the day on which the meeting was, in fact, held; and that meeting, in its turn, was adjourned to the first Wednesday in November, but held on Friday, November 3rd. It was not until December 6th that they got back to the right day of the week. It would have been interesting if we could have compared the reactions of the premier Grand Lodge to the change of Calendar, but their Minute Book affords no clue, for they held no meeting between June 18th and November 30th. Whether an intermediate Quarterly Communication should have fallen on one of the missing days of September and was for that reason omitted we cannot know, since their meetings were so irregularly held in any case.

Both these September meetings are of particular interest, for at the regular meeting on the 2nd the Grand Committee was formed "into a Working Lodge of Master Masons in Order to hear a Lecture from the Grand Secretary Laurence Dermott. The Lodge was Opened in Ancient form of Grand Lodge and every part of Real freemasonry was traced and explained: except the Royal Arch."

A curious, and perhaps significant, omission may be noticed in this Minute: although the Grand Secretary was addressing an assembly consisting of one-third Masters and two-thirds Wardens, the Minute does not except the Installation ceremony.

The meeting of 14th is of great importance to us, for not only was it this meeting which decided that the Grand Committee should grant Warrants, but it also affords confirmation of the greatly expanded Minutes of the same day written up in "Morgan's Register", and shows that the Warrants of the original five Lodges were to be back-dated only to 17th July, 1751.

It is also noteworthy that the account given in Morgan's Register of the doings of 14th September show that, like the original Grand Lodge of 1717, the "Antients" claimed only to govern "the several Ancient Lodges held in and about the Cities of London and Westminster". It was not until October, 1753, that Lodges were warranted outside that area, with the establishment of Lodges 24 and 25 at Bristol.

Morgan's Register. This was brought to light by Bro. Sadler in 1885, and described at length by Bro. G. B. Abbott in 1886 in The Freemason. It begins with an alphabetical index to the Register of Masons, which forms the largest part of the book. This is followed by the code of "Rules and Orders" arranged by the Committee set up on 17th July, consisting of 16 original rules, believed to be in Morgan's handwriting, plus two which were added later, as noted with dates in the margin, and are written up by Dermott. Following the Rules come two resolutions passed at the meeting on 14th September (New Style); it would appear that these must have been written in subsequently on two pages previously left blank, for following these pages came originally 14 pages containing 27 By-laws for private Lodges, arranged by John Morgan and Philip McLoughlin; these were rejected by the Grand Committee on April 1st in favour of a set of Dublin By-laws produced by Dermott, and the 14 pages "were cut out and burnt by General Consent"; presumably these 14 pages had been written up by Morgan prior to February, 1752; but the book has been re-bound at some late date, and the pages have clearly been re-arranged out of their original order.

Next comes a brief "Black List", begun by Dermott, but incomplete, as can be seen from the Minutes. Then comes the main item of the volume, the Register of Members going up to No. 1014, dated August 14th, 1755, followed by blank numbers up to 1035.

At the other end of the book are three Lists of Lodges; the first from 17th July, 1751, to 11th December, 1752, containing 15 Lodges numbered from 2 to 16. The second List, which shows Lodges 7 and 10 erased and the remaining Lodges closed up, contains 36 Lodges (2-37) down to August 19th, 1754. The first 15 Lodges of this second List correspond exactly with the Engraved List of Lodges of 1753 (v. A.Q.C., xix, pp. 93-99). The Third List of Lodges purports to show 64 Lodges, but as some 20 numbers are blank, many others imperfect and all lacking dates of Constitution, it is of little value and is omitted from this transcript.

Minute Book. This starts on 5th February, 1752, but a footnote by Dermott to the Minutes of September 14th confirms the account contained in Morgan's Register of "a General Assembly of Ancient Masons at the Turk's head Tavern in Greek's Street Soho" on 17th July, 1751. By February, 1752, the Grand Committee had moved to the Griffin Tavern, Holborn, and it was at this meeting that Morgan's impending departure on board ship was announced, and Dermott was elected Grand Secretary in his stead—perhaps the most momentous event in the whole history of the “Antients”. It was their good fortune, and the tragedy of the “Moderns”, that the former placed their affairs in such able, and the latter in such feeble, hands. As Calvert expresses it (v. Grand Lodge Secretaries, p. 9), “the older Grand Lodge . . . had been content to leave its secretarial work to a succession of mediocrities”.

Royal Arch. The earliest known Minute referring to the Royal Arch is that of this Grand Committee, which at its second meeting on March 4th, 1752, dealt with two imposters, who “pretended to have made Royal-Archmen”, but were found to have “not the least Idea of that secret”. The only other references to the Royal Arch which fall within the period of this transcript are that already quoted, when on September 2nd Dermott explained “every part of Real freemasonry . . . except the Royal Arch”, and on March 2nd, when “the Masters of the Royal Arch” were “summon'd to meet in Order to regulate things relative to that most valuable branch of the Craft”.

Grand Master. As early as Rule 1 of the Rules and Orders, the Brethren had looked forward to the time when they should have a Grand Master and Grand Wardens to rule over them, and before April, 1752, an endeavour had been made to secure Lord George Sackville; but he replied that he was unable to accept, as he was leaving for Ireland in the train of his father, the Lord Lieutenant.

A suitable meeting-place was another difficulty; after a few meetings at the Griffin, they moved to the Temple Eating House, Temple Bar, but it was decided that they could not ask any Noble Brother to accept the Grand Mastership until they had a more reputable meeting place, and at the beginning of 1753 they moved to the Five Bells Tavern in the Strand, in spite of the strenuous opposition of the proprietor of the Griffin and his friends, and there they remained for the next 15 years.

In 1751 it had been arranged to place the Grand Mastership, so to speak, in commission, by authorising the Masters of the first five Lodges to sign Warrants, but later the situation is not so clear; in October, 1753, when the two petitions from Bristol came in, it was “Order'd that the Grand Secretary shall proceed according to the Antient Custom of the Craft during the inter magistrum”, which, I presume, meant that the Grand Secretary alone was to sign; but this cannot be confirmed unless one of these old Warrants should come to light. Dermott was evidently the “Lord High Everything Else”, for he was already the only authority on the ritual, and on October 18th he was ordered to act as Director of Ceremonies and regulate all processions.

The search for a Grand Master went on without success throughout the year, until finally, despairing of a Noble Grand Master, they decided on December 5th to elect one of themselves for the ensuing six months; and accordingly Robert Turner, Master of Lodge No. 15, was elected the first Grand Master of the “Antients”, and was forthwith installed, with William Rankin as his Deputy, and Samuel Quay, of No. 2, and Lachlan McIntosh, of No. 3, as Wardens. Both Quay and McIntosh were original members of the organisation, and the first Masters of the two senior Lodges, Quay being No. 1 on the Register of Members, and McIntosh No. 16; but Turner and Rankin were both newcomers and were registered as Nos. 300 and 301 respectively on January 16th, 1753; Turner is described as “Gent”, and Rankin as a Cardmaker. Turner had already presided over the Grand Committee on 6th and 19th June as Master of Lodge No. 15, and Rankin had signed the Minutes of April 4th as one of the representatives of Lodge 15. The following meeting, on St. John's day, is headed with great éclat “Grand Lodge in Ample form”, and henceforth the meetings are normally termed “Grand Lodge”.

In February, 1754, a Jewel was voted to Dermott, with instructions to design it himself, the award to be a personal one to himself, which he nevertheless notes at a later date to have been transferred to his successor. In October, Jewels for all the other Grand Officers were ordered to be obtained.

At the end of their six months of office the first three Grand Officers were all re-elected; but, in December, Turner and Rankin signified their wish not to be elected again; no elections are recorded, but presumably they duly took place, for on St. John's day in Winter all four new officers were installed, the Hon. Edward Vaughan being Grand Master and William Holford his Deputy; this time the election was for 12 months, probably because, in the meantime, Grand Lodge meetings had been reduced to six—four quarterly communications and the two SS. Johns' days. And a year later Vaughan was re-elected and Holford re-appointed for a further 12 months.

Attendance at meetings is not usually recorded in the Minutes, but it appears to have been good, for in June, 1754, 70 members are recorded to have been present; on the other hand, funds were short, and it was necessary to close the General Fund and pay for funerals by subscription. During this period the Grand Lodge seems to have functioned mainly as a Benefit Club,<sup>1</sup> and it was decided that too much time was taken up with Charitable appeals; the Committee of Charity was, therefore, given wider powers, and in November, 1754, was re-named "The "Stewards' Lodge", but it seems doubtful whether it functioned as a Lodge; it certainly did not come on the Register as such.

The collection of arrears was a pressing problem, and in September, five Lodges were erased for non-payment; in this connection the very large number of Brethren, who are shown in the Register as excluded for non-payment, may be noted. It was probably the need to increase the funds that induced the "Antients" to sell vacant Warrants. In October, Lodge No. 37 was allowed to promote itself in this way to No. 6 for the very reasonable fee of one guinea. But later the price rose: in December, 1758, No. 63 became 13 at a cost of two guineas: while in June, 1759, No. 55 bid four-and-a-half guineas to become No. 3.

Dermott had no hesitation in making use of the "Moderns", even while he derided them; in January, 1755, he read over "The New and Old Regulations of Freemasons", which were no doubt identical with those later published in Ahiman Rezon; they do not, as one might expect, bear any relation to Morgan's "Rules and Orders", but are lifted, word for word, from Anderson's Constitutions of 1738, and even their method of presentation in parallel columns is copied in Ahiman Rezon.

Installation. It would appear that in the early days of the "Antients" the Installation ceremony was little better known than it was among the "Moderns". In June, 1755, Dermott was ordered to examine the Officers of Private Lodges, and a year later he reported that "Many of them were incapable of performance". Needless to say, Pooh Bah was ordered to do the Installations for them.

Thomas Grinsell. This Brother, who had for some years been a pensioner of his step-brother, James Quin the Comedian, applied to Grand Lodge for relief in June, 1755, and is then described as "infirm thro' great age". It was on the testimony of this veteran that Dermott, in the 1778 edition of Ahiman Rezon, gave eight names as the "geniusses to whom the world is indebted for the memorable invention of modern masonry". The eight names being, in fact, as Gould pointed out those who were recorded by Anderson as present at the Initiation of the Prince of Wales at Kew Palace on 5th November, 1737.

Noble Grand Master. At last, in December, 1756, the Grand Lodge attained their ambition by electing the Earl of Blesinton as Grand Master; but what good he can have been to them it is difficult to see, for he was installed by proxy, and though he retained the Office until the end of 1760, he never once put in an appearance in Grand Lodge. As far as one can see, he confined his labours to the signature of Warrants; one of the Warrants which he signed was for

The Grand Master's Lodge, No. 1. This Warrant is dated 13th August, 1759, but it has been pointed out that in the Minutes of Grand Lodge four Brethren are shown on March 13th, 1757, as coming from Lodge No. 1, while as early as 2nd September, 1756, Dermott gives his own Lodge as No. 1. It is, therefore, argued that the Grand Master's Lodge was in existence at least from this last-mentioned date; arrangements had been made in 1752 that any Warrants granted previous to the installation of a Grand Master should be subsequently confirmed by the Grand Master's signature after his appointment, and though Robert Turner was Grand Master from 1754 and was followed by Edward Vaughan, it is suggested that Dermott held over the Warrant of his favoured No. 1 until it could be signed by a Noble Grand Master. The United Grand Lodge has now acknowledged the seniority of the Grand Master's Lodge as dating from 2nd September, 1756, and without wishing to challenge this ruling, I would point out that there is an alternative possibility, namely, that the Grand Body itself was originally considered as being Lodge No. 1. This is to some extent suggested by the fact that, as mentioned earlier, the Engraved List of 1753 shows the Grand Committee in the space which would naturally fall to be occupied by Lodge No. 1. No engraved number is included, but the number 1 has been added in ink. When, or by whom, it is impossible to say; but it could have been by Dermott himself, and the fact that

To the Most Ancient and Honourable Fraternity of Free and Accepted MASONS.

Brethren,

YOU are hereby required to attend the Corpse of Brother Richard Kitchen, from the George in Piccadilly, late Post-master, and member of No. 29, on Sunday the 28th instant, as near the Hour of Four as possible, in order to proceed in due Form to the Place of Interment near Carnaby Market. The Brethren will be so good as to attend in proper Cloathing according to the Office they bear, and wait on the Secretary for Instructions concerning the Procession.

when Dermott resigned from Lodge No. 9 he made no motion for some time to join any other Lodge, might suggest that he considered membership of Grand Lodge sufficient, without membership of a private Lodge being a necessary prerequisite. The Minutes record that the Grand Master's Lodge was "proclaim'd and took the first seat accordingly as No. 1" only on September 5th, three days after the date of its Warrant.

Ritual. On March 13th, 1757, an emergency meeting was called, and attended by 46 Brethren from 25 Lodges, at which Dermott "Traced and Explained the 1st 2d and 3d part of the Antient Craft and settled many things (then disputed)". This was also the occasion for which the Masters of the Royal Arch were summoned to attend, but no record is given of their deliberations.

Treaty with Ireland. A treaty of amity with the Grand Lodge of Ireland was concluded on March 1st, 1758.

Carroll and Samuel Spencer. The Minutes of December 5th, 1759, record the appeal of William Carroll for charity, which was accorded to him by a private subscription amounting to five guineas. Dermott's comment on Spencer's famous gaffe, when the same Brother had previously applied to him, appears as a memorandum following the Minutes of the Emergency Meeting on December 16th.

Our final Minute records the proclamation of the second Noble Grand Master, the Earl of Kelly, and, although it lies outside our period, it may be pertinent to add that he remained in Office until 1766 and was just as regular in his non-attendance as his predecessor.

Illustrations. Our frontispiece shows the Title-page to Morgan's "Rules and Orders", and is self-explanatory; but the other illustration at page 26, which is the Tail-piece to the Index to Dermott's first Minute-book, requires some elucidation.

Bro. Carr informs me that the Hebrew characters in the lower compartment are a correct transliteration of Dermott's signature, the small characters at the end being the proper word for Scribe or Secretary, and prove that either Dermott was a better scholar than one would expect, or that he was helped by a real Hebrew Scholar.

In the upper compartment, the characters in the right-hand geometrical figures stand for the numbers 3, 4 and 5, though the one for "4" is badly formed. Those in the left figure stand for 6, 8 and 10, which are suitable numbers for the 3, 4, 5, triangle. The word in the Pentalpha is the Tetragrammaton. The word at the top was a puzzle, but Bro. Ivor Grantham suggests that it reads "Domino", the "D" being formed by the smallest square. The word below is Hallelu-Jah.

WHEREAS it is highly expedient for the Universal Benefit of the Ancient Craft that a GRAND MASTER and Grand Lodge shou'd govern and direct the proceedings of the several Ancient Lodges held in and about the Cities of London and Westminster. And as the present low condition of the Ancient Society of Free and Accepted Masons renders the hope of Obtaining the honour a Noble Personage to preside over us at this time very precarious.

In Order to preserve the present remains of the true Ancient Craft &c. We the under Named being the present Masters and Wardens of the several Masonical meetings called Lodges of true Ancient Masonry aforesaid, do agree (pursuant to the powers vested in us by our Respective Brethren of the several lodges) to form a Grand Committee (we mean such a Committee) as may supply the deficiency of a Grand Master untill an Opportunity offers for the Choice of a Noble Personage to govern our Ancient Fraternity: And that We will therein (by the Authority Aforesaid) make Statutes or laws for the better government and well Ordering the said Fraternity Receive petitions, hear Appeals, and Transact Business (that is to to say such Business as ought to be peculiar  $\wedge$  a Grand Lodge) with Equity and Impartiality. — Dated in our Grand Committee Room on Thursday the fourteenth day of September New stile 1752. And in the year of Masonry 5752. In the presence of

And whereas several of the lodges have congregated and made Masons without any Warrant: (not with a desire of Acting wrong but thro: the Necessity above mention'd) In order to Rectify such irregular proceedings (as far as in our power) It is hereby Order'd That the Grand Secretary shall write Warrants (on Parchment) for the Unwarranted Lodges, viz., The lodges known by the Title of N<sup>o</sup>. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and that all the said Warrants shall bare date

July the seventeenth One thousand seven hundred fifty and One being the day on which the said lodges met (at the Turk's Head Tavern in Greek Street Soho) to revive the Ancient Craft.

That the Secretary shall leave proper Spaces for the Grand Mast<sup>r</sup>. Deputy G.M. and Grand Wardens to sign all the said Warrants according to Ancient Custom.

That as soon as we shall arrive at the Great happiness of installing proper Grand Officers the possessors of the Unsigned Warrants shall present them to the Grand Master for his Worship's Signature or Renewal, Until which time the said Warrants as well as those which have or may be (thro: necessity) granted in the like manner shall be deem'd good and lawfull.

Lastly this our Regulation shall be Recorded in our Registry to show posterity how much we desire to revive the Ancient Craft upon true Masonical principles.

Grand Committee at the Griffin Tavern Holborn

March 4. 1752.

Brother John Gaunt Master of N<sup>o</sup>. 5. In the Chair

—Macky, better known by the name of the leg of Mutton Masons——
In course of the examination it appear'd that Phealon and Mackey had initiated a leg

many persons for the mean consideration of ^ Mutton for dinner or supper. to the disgrace of the Ancient Craft. that it was deficult to discover who assisted them if any. as they seldom met twice in the same Alehouse. That Macky was an Empiric in phisic; and both impostors in Masonry. That upon examining some brothers whom they pretended to have made Royal -Archmen, The parties had not the least Idea of that secret. That Doctor Macky (for so he was called) pretended to teach a Masonical Art by any man

which ^ _____ could (in a moment) render himself Invisible. That the Grand Secret<sup>y</sup>. had examined Macky, at the house of M<sup>r</sup>. James Duffy Tobacconist in East Smithfield who was not a Mason and that Macky appear'd incapable of making an Apprentice with any degree of propety. Nor had Mackey the least Idea or knowlege

he of Royal Arch masonry. But instead thereof ^ had told the people whom he deceived, a long story about 12 white Marble stones &c &c and that the Rain Bow was the Royal Arch, with many other ab-surdities equally foreign and Rediculous _____

The Grand Committee Unanimously Agreed and Order'd that neither Thomas Phealon nor John Mackey be admitted into any Ancient Lodge during their natural lives.

This was the first time that Laurence Dermott acted as principal Secretary. Nor did he take any fees before the 27th April 1752.

Brother Christopher Byrne Master of No. 6 in the Chair

The Copy of the Byelaws for private Lodges as Written by the late G Secretary J Morgan, was read and compared with Brother Lau: Dermott's Copy of the Byelaws of his former lodge N<sup>o</sup>. 26 in the City of Dublin, and the latter being deem'd the most correct. it was. _____ Unanimously Resolved that the most Correct Copy should be received & acknowledged as the only Byelaws for private lodges in future. And public thanks given to Bro<sup>r</sup>. Philip McLoughlin and J Morgan for their good intentions, and trouble in drawing up the former bye laws.

The Pursuivant Bro<sup>r</sup>. William Lilly gave notice that Bro<sup>r</sup>. John Garnt Master of N<sup>o</sup>. 5. desired admittance, and upon his admission the Worshipful President Resign'd the Chair to him * _____

The new president call'd on John Morgan James Hagan and Laurence Dermott, to know what success they had in petitioning Lord George Sackvile to accept the Chair ——— Their † report was That they had waited on Lord George Sackvile at Somerset House in the Strand, that having read the petition His Lordship told them politely That he had the highest veneration for the Ancient Craft, and wish to promote it; But he was engaged to attend His Father the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and was inform'd that the Grand Lodge of Ireland had lately chosen him Grand Master; and that upon his return to England he would accept the Chair, or recommend them to another Noble Man.

Unanimously Resolved, and Ordered that the thanks of the Ancient Craft be given to the Right Honorable Lord George Sackvile for His Lordship's polite and very kind answer. and that Laurence Dermott Grand Secretary, Ensign M<sup>c</sup>Intosh and Owen Tudor be a Committee to deliver the said Thanks.‡

Clos'd harmoniously: and adjourned to the first Wednesday in May next

* Not as his Right, But for his acknowledged skill & Judgment.

† The report was made <sup>by</sup> Hagan & Dermott, M<sup>r</sup>. Morgan then out of Town.

The following Brethren viz Thomas Kane Thomas Ohara, and John Morris of N<sup>o</sup>. 9 appeared before the G Committee and gave testimony concerning the Complaint by John Robinson against Moses Willoughby, as mention'd in the Transactions of June last.

And the said T. Kane T. Ohara and J. Morris all and every of them did then & there declare that Moses had wronged John Robinson of Nine Shillings.

The said M. Willoughby & J Robinson were Order'd in before the Committee, and all any every part of the matter in dispute were again minutely examin'd and proved. Ensign Lachlan M<sup>c</sup>Intosh Master of N<sup>o</sup>. 3 * in the Chair Heard several remarks and amendations proposed by the G. Sec<sup>y</sup>. which were all admitted and acknowleged necessary, but could not be mention'd in Writing.

The Secretary again Urged the necessity of Chusing a Grand M<sup>r</sup>. Resolved Nem Con. that the Grateful thanks of this Grand Committee be given to Ensign Lachlan M<sup>c</sup>Intosh the steadfast friend of the Ancient Craft.

Resolved Nem. Con. That the thanks of the ancient Craft in general be given to the G.S. Lau Dermott for the great service rendered to the Craft by his labour and Instructions, particularly for his Generously refusing to take One Shilling for each person reported to become a Mason in any Ancient lodge, exclusive of Registry & of

Grand Committee at the Temple in Shire lane Temple Bar. Oct. 6. 1752.

Mr. John Gaunt past Master of N<sup>o</sup>. 5 in the Chair.

A motion was made from the Chair That application be immediately made

^ to some honorable Ancient Brother to accept the Honor of the Grand Mastership or Recommend us to another.

Resolved it is the unanimous Opinion of the Grand Committee that the Craft has flourish'd most and best when Governed by a Noble Grand Master. For 'though General or Grand Committees have power to form new laws for the Fraternity, Yet to render them binding or Render Stability, a Grand Master is Absolutely necessary to Confirm them.

Therefore Resolved and Ordered that every Brother of this Society shall make all necessary enquiries concerning proper persons for the Office of Grand Master ——— And lay the product of such enquiry before this Grand Committee on the first Wednesday in November next. to which this Committee Is Clos'd and Adjourn'd

Grand Committee at the Temple Eating House
Shire lane Temple Bar. Nov 3<sup>d</sup> 1752.

Mr. Edward Ryan Master of N<sup>o</sup>. 6 in the Chair

The names of several Noble and Honorable Gentlemen said to be Ancient Masons were laid before this Committee In order to petition some one of them to undertake the Grand Mastership & Government of the Craft.

The principal personages spoke of were the R<sup>t</sup>. Hon<sup>ble</sup>. Lords Chesterfield, Ponsöby Inchinquin and Blesinton —

Order'd that the G<sup>d</sup>. Secretary with the Masters of five lodges shall wait on the R<sup>t</sup>. Hon<sup>ble</sup>. Lord Chesterfeild with the said petition.

The Secretary return'd thanks for the honor done him, in appointing him of the Committee to wait on Lord Chestirfield. And begged the Grand Committee would postpone the business untill they had made choice of some proper place to receive and Install his Lordship, the Temple Eating House being very unfit for that business.

Brother James Bradshaw and other friends of B<sup>r</sup>. Rob<sup>t</sup>. Glave the Landlord objected to the Grand Secretary's request, Upon which there were many altercations on both sides, not fit to be written, the consequence and conclusion was that the matter was wholly postponed, and the Committee Closed and Adjourn'd to the first Wednesday in Dec<sup>r</sup>.

Next.

Grand Committee at the Sign of the Temple in Shire lane
Temple Bar. Dec 6. 1752

Mr. John Smith Master of N<sup>o</sup>. 7 in the Chair

Resolved Unanimously That the lodges who by neglect or disobedience have forfeited their Rank or Numbers shall be discontinued on the Registry. And the Junior lodges who have proved themselves faithful friends of the Ancient Craft, shall hence forth bear the Title or Number so forfeited. The distribution to be according to seniority.

A motion was made by Brother John Gaunt Master of N<sup>o</sup>. 5. for an immediate Application to the R<sup>t</sup>. Hon<sup>ble</sup>. Earl of Inchiquin to become our Grand Master.

Upon ^ the Grand Secretary moved for the Opinion of the Majority Whether they thought the Temple Eating House, a proper place for the Instalation of a Noble Grand Master.

Which question being being put to the vote it pass'd in the Negative

The Grand Secretary propos'd moving the Grand Committee to the House of M<sup>r</sup>. Richard Huntidge the five Bells Tavern in the Strand, a place both suitable & Reputable.

The motion was seconded and thirded and after many Arguments the matter was determined by vote as follows viz .....	For moving to the 5 Bells	16

Majority 5.

The president declared the Majority and ordered the Grand Secretary to Summon the next meeting, at the five Bells Tavern in the Strand.

Brother John Gaunt Master of N<sup>o</sup>. 5 renewed his motion of making Choice of the R<sup>t</sup>. Honorable Earl of Inchiquin Grand Master But some of the Brethren having inform'd the Committee that Lord George Sackvile would soon return from Ireland, It was thought most prudent to wait his Lordship's return, as he had formerly given a very friendly and Oblidging answer to the Brethren who waited on him for the same purpose.

The Grand Secretary desired to know whether there was any other books or Manuscripts more than had been delivered to him by the Worshipful M<sup>r</sup>. James Hagarty the presiding Officer Upon the 2<sup>d</sup> of Feb. 1752 and M<sup>r</sup>. John Morgan late Grand Secretary.

To which several of the Brethren answer'd that they did not know of any. Others viz Brothers Samuel Quay, James Hagan, — John Doughty, John Smith Richard Price John Bandy — Lachlan M<sup>c</sup>Intosh, Abraham Ardezoif and others said that they knew M<sup>r</sup>. Morgan had a Roll of parchment of prodigious length which contain'd some Historical matters Relative to the Ancient Craft. which parchment they did suppose he had taken abroad with him. It was further said that many Manuscripts were lost amongst the lodges lately Modernized where a vestige of the Ancient Craft ~~has not been left~~ was not suffered to be revived or practiced; And that it was for this Reason so many of them withdrew from lodges (under the Modern sanction) to support the true Ancient System. That they found the freemasons from Ireland and Scotland had been initiated in the very same manner as themselves which confirm'd their system & practice as right and Just. Without which none could be deem'd legal, though possessed of all the books and papers on Earth.

The Grand Secretary (Dermott) produced a very Old Manuscript written or copied by one Bramhall of Canterbury in the Reign of King Henry the Seventh which Manuscript was presented to Bro<sup>r</sup>. Dermott (in 1748) by one of the Descendants of the writer. On perusal it proved to contain the whole matter in the 'fore mention'd parchment, as well as other matters not in that parchment.

The Grand Secretary expatiated much on the subject of this old M.S. to the great satisfaction of the hearers. And on his conclusion Brother Samuel Quay made a Motion for the Thanks of the General Committee to be given to the G.S. Dermott "for the many pleasing Instructions which he had so often

"Administer'd to the Brethren". Upon which Brother

James Bradshaw, Thomas Gibbons, Robert Glave & Evan McKenzie protested against any thanks or even Approbation of the Secretary's conduct, who instead of being useful had actually Sung & lectured the Brethren out of their senses. And had then proposed to move the Grand Committee out of the House of a worthy Brother M<sup>r</sup>. Robert Glave to the House of a Man who was not a Mason.

That the only way to promote the Society was to chuse a new Secretary. Continue in the house where they then were and not run blindly into needless expences at a Tavern which in the end would bring ruin on them And then what would they think of him who had Lectured and sung them out of their senses.

As soon as the paper containing the above protest was publicly read and Copied, The Secretary beg'd to be heard in answer to the Landlord and his freinds. This request being Granted The Secretary said that he did not desire to continue in Office longer " than he should be found really useful. That if a Candidate (better Qualified) offered himself, he the Secretary would for the benefit of the Craft resign in favour of such Candidate without the trouble of a General Election. And if he was so unfortunate as to sing any Brother out of his Senses, he hoped the Worshipful Master in the Chair and the Grand Committee would allow him an hour's time and he would endeavour to sing them into the senses again.

The Request was granted with great good humour, the Secretary made proper use of his time. And the Worshipful M<sup>r</sup>- John Smith Closed and Adjourn'd the Grand Committee to the Five Bells Tavern in the Strand. Upon the 3<sup>d</sup> day of January of delivering or paying for the delivery of them for several months past in fact ever since he was install'd, which servitude was exceeding troublesome to him as he was obliged to work twelve hours in the day for the Master Painter who employ'd him.

A motion was made for a new Regulation of the dues to be paid by Country Lodges

Order'd that this affair shall be refered to the Stewards lodge who are hereby Impower'd to draw up what Regulation they shall think most convenient for the honour and benefit of the Craft in General. Nevertheless such Regulation or Order shall not take place intill first Confirm'd by this Grand Lodge Heard an appeal from John Hamilton (an Excluded Mem<sup>r</sup>) setting forth the unhappiness of his mind and the many injuries which he had Rec<sup>d</sup>. through his being Excluded from all lodges. And most humbly desired to be admitted for a few moments when he wou'd make it appear that sentance against him was not only cruel but also unjust. &c After many debates the said —

John Hamilton was Admitted. And being order'd to fullfill what he had asserted in his appeal &c He said that the former Complaints against him were all groundless and Malicious and carried against him by the cunning and wickedness of an Imposter viz Lau Dermott the Secretary who had imposed on the whole Craft in saying that he was Regularly Made in Ireland &c Whereas the said Dermott was only a Clandestine Mason made by James Hagan and Others at a House in Long -Acre some years before, That his whole drift was to keep the society in ignorance and with his singing and tricks to lull them on untill they had accumulated a considerable sum of Money and then to Robb them: &c The late G M Edward Vaughan Esq<sup>r</sup>. stood up and said unhappy

“That he found himself very  $\wedge$  in hearing such a slanderous vile Character of the Grand Secretary who he had taken for a most deserving brother, And therefore earnestly moved that the said Secretary shou'd be imediately Order'd to make his defence.

This motion was put into execution, When the Secretary arose and beged leave to Read a Certain Regulation which being granted he Read as follows.

“If a Complaint be made against a Brother by another Brother, and he be found Guilty, He shall stand to the determination of the lodge, But if a Complaint be made against a brother wherein the Accuser cannot Support his Complaint to conviction, such Accuser shall forfeit such penalty as the person so accused might have forfeited had he been really convicted on “on such Complaint.

Then the Grand Secretary Address'd himself to the Chair Worshipful and said Right  $\wedge$  Sir, and Brethren, this is the Antient and most Equitable law made and observed by our Ancestors, always approved and Confirmed by you, and therefore by this law I stand or fall.

To which the R W. in the Chair replied "As the law of Masons
"has decreed, so shall all things here be done" Then his Worship him

call'd on the Accuser and told  $\wedge$  that he must prove his Assertion the accuser then Order'd James Hagan before the lodge who being asked whether he did ~~æet~~ make Lau: Dermott (the G S) a freemason he answer'd and declared that he did not, neither thing

did he ever teach him any  $\wedge$  relative to Masonry. nor cou'd he devise what reason M<sup>r</sup> Hamilton had for saying so.

The G M then askd M<sup>r</sup> Hamilton if he had any other person to call on this Occasion, Upon which Lau: Rooke arose and said that he verily believed that Bro<sup>r</sup> John -
- Hamilton's Accusation was true, Being asked his reas
-on for thinking so, He answer'd "because Brother Hamilton told him so, and at the same time swore to it, in such a manner as to leave no doubt behind."

Then the Secretary was Order'd to make his final defence &c He address'd the Grand, and said RW G Master and the my rest of  $\wedge$  worthy Brethren here Assembled

By my conduct hitherto, I hope you are convinc'd that I have not done you any wrong. As to my intention of Robbing you &c This must be left to the great tell-Tale Time, it being impossible to convince this lodge as to my present way of thinking much less what I may think in future.
And as to the Other Charge of Imposing on you and being made in a Clandestine manner in London I shall beg leave to have the present and Past Masters of N<sup>o</sup>. 2 examin'd on that head, And I humbly and earnestly beg that the said Master and past Mater may be put to the Master
- Mason's Test, on this Occasion.

Allen

Then arose Bro<sup>r</sup>. Thomas  $\wedge$  past Master of N<sup>o</sup>. 2 and proved that Brother Dermott had faithfully served all Offices in a very Reputable Lodge held in his house in the City of Dublin which servitude was prior to the said Dermott's coming to England: And further declared that he had never heard any crime (in or Out of the Lodge) laid to his Charge.

lastly Brother Dermott produced a Certificate (sign'd Edw<sup>d</sup>. Spratt G.S) under the Seal of the Grand Lodge of Ireland of his good behaviour and servitude &c &c &c which gave intire satisfaction. Upon which the G: L: came to the following Resolution viz.

Resolved it is the Opinion of this Grand Lodge that John Hamilton late of N<sup>o</sup>. 19 is unworthy of being Admitted into a Mason's Lodge or any other good Society and therefore it is hereby Order'd that the said John Hamilton Shall not be admitted within the door of any Antient Lodge during his life. the said John having been several times excluded for malpractices and again reinstated yet still continue in his vile offences, of which Clandestine making are not the least.

The Grand Secretary made a Motion for a New Regulation concerning the making of new Masons

After many debates it was Agreed and Order'd that no person shou'd hereafter be made a Mason in an Antient Lodge under the sum of One pound five shillings and sixpence and Cloath the Lodge if required, And also that every person

Made under a Temporal Dispensation shall pay as much as those made in Warranted Lodges. On default hereof the Transgressors shall be dealt with according to the Eight General Regulation This Regulation to extend to all Masons whether Members or visitors, if found Makeing or Assisting to make in a Clandes-tine Manner.

Order'd that a General meeting of Master Masons shall be held in this Room on the 13th Ins<sup>t</sup>. in Order to compare and Regulate several things (relative to the Antient Craft) which cannot be committed to writing Order'd the Masters of the Royal Arch shall also be Summon'd to meet in Order to regulate things rela-tive to that most valluable branch of the Craft.

The Grand Secretary Read ~~a~~ the Copy of a letter which (by advice of the Grand Officers) he wrote to the G M — proposing a Play for the benefit of Indigent Brethren.
To which the Grand Master answer'd that the Managers of the Theatres required an Unreasonable sum (between fifty and ~~sixty~~ sixty pounds) That his Ldship to would agree Even that sum providing he might be allowed to have a play and Entertainment of his Ldship's Chusing which was ~~denied~~ refused.

The R<sup>t</sup>. W D G Master Inform'd the Grand Lodge that he had lately waited on the G M (according to annual custom) to intreat his Ldship's Continuance in the Office of G. M. but his Ldship being then engaged very much cou'd not give a direct answer and Order'd the D G M to wait again. In the meantime it was thought most prudent to Elect some brother to be Recommended as a Deputy and to make Choice of Two Grand Wardens —————
The R: W Deputy Grand Master Goodman was unanni-
-mously requested to keep his Office but he declined such office and Alledged sufficient reasons for his behaviour, for which as well as the whole of his proceedings he rece<sup>d</sup>. publick thanks —

Then the G Lodge proceeded to make choice of <sup>a</sup> worthy Bro<sup>r</sup>. to be recommended to the G M for the Deputy's Chair

Order'd that a private subscription shall be immediately made and deliv<sup>d</sup>. to the said Carroll, which was accordingly done to the great relief and satisfaction of the petitioner.

The G Secretary made a Long and labour'd speech against any victular being chosen a Grand Officer, which speech gave great Offence to some persons in the Grand Lodge

 The Secretary owned that he had treated the subject freely, yet he — humbly conceiv'd that considering the dignity of the Craft & his duty to the Society he had not exceeded the bounds of Brotherly love and good manners, and therefore humbly moved that the Sense of the Grand Lodge might be taken on his present behaviour.

The R W D: G: M. put the Question viz
 Whether the Sec'y Lau Dermott for his last speech

APPENDIX

REGISTER OF MEMBERS OF THE ROYAL ARCH
(Antients')

NOTES ON THE REGISTER

It is frequently stated that "The Royal Arch Minutes of the 'Antients' begin in 1783"; but this phrase is, to say the least of it, most misleading. If it is intended to imply that there are Minutes of an "Antient" Grand Chapter from 1783, it is definitely untrue. There are NO Minutes of any "Antient" Grand Chapter, and it is, in fact, very doubtful if any Grand Chapter of the "Antients" ever had anything but a shadow existence, being merely of the nature of a Committee of Grand Lodge; it had no funds, no Officers and no powers other than those borrowed from Grand Lodge; and at the Union, although an Union of two Grand Chapters is said to have taken place in 1817, what actually happened was that, on 30th November, 1813, the Grand Chapter ("Moderns")

"Resolved That H.R.H. The Duke of Sussex, M.E.Z, be invested with full and unlimited Powers to negotiate and conclude an Union on behalf of this Supreme Grand Chapter with the Grand Lodges [italics mine] under their Royal Highnesses the Dukes of Sussex and Kent . . . ."

and thereafter there are no Minutes until 18th March, 1817, when there is a record that meetings of two Grand Chapters were held, and that subsequently an United Grand Chapter was formed, but we note that the Officers of the United Grand Chapter were all "Moderns", with the one exception of Edwards Harper, Joint Grand Secretary, who became Grand Scribe N. Can we believe that this would have been the case if the "Antients" had had any recognisable Grand Chapter and Grand Officers?

What is presumably meant by the "Royal Arch Minutes of 1783" is to be found on the first four pages of the Register of Royal Arch Masons ("Antients"), and consists of a statement that on 5th November, 1783, "A General Chapter or Grand Lodge of Royal Arch Masons" was held, which re-affirmed the regulation of Grand Lodge of December 4th, 1771, and a decision of a General Chapter of January 3rd, 1772, and then adopted nine Resolutions for the future conduct of the Royal Arch; in other words, Bylaws to be appended to the Grand Lodge Laws, after having been (v. Resolution 8) "Respectfully laid before the General Grand Lodge [not Chapter] upon the first Wednesday in December, 1783".

These four pages are transcribed here, together with the first page of the Register, which demonstrates how few "Antient" Royal Arch Masons existed when the Register was begun in 1783. The Register continues with very sporadic and muddled entries down to 1792, after which date much more systematic registration took place, and is continued in this volume through some 167 folios down to October 2nd, 1807.

A noticeable feature of the Register is that the exaltations seem to have been carried out only in certain Lodges. Other Lodges were perhaps unable to raise a quorum.

imagined more. Therefore to attempt an Amendment or Addition to the Mystery of the Holy Royal Arch, wou'd be a profanation of
